

Become a Professor in Special Education

FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE

The University of Arizona seeks applications from highly qualified individuals who want to become Special Education Professors in Colleges and Universities.

Each Fellowship Provides:

A stipend of $24,000 per year plus tuition waiver & additional financial support for:

- ◆ A research externship at another university with a leading scholar in the student's area of specialization
- ◆ Yearly conference attendance ◆ Participation in summer programs ◆ Research-related computer software

Special Features:

- ◆ This Ph.D. program emphasizes evidence-based practices in special education with all students, including learners from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds
- ◆ An excellent faculty actively involved in research on evidence-based practices
- ◆ Specializations in learning disabilities (elementary, secondary, or postsecondary), bilingual/multicultural special education, emotional/behavioral disorders, positive behavioral support, hearing impairment, visual impairment, or twice exceptional (gifted and disabled)
- ◆ 17 leading scholars from 38 different universities have already agreed to:
 - ◆ Sponsor our students
 - ◆ Involve students in their research
 - ◆ Work directly with our students
 - ◆ Serve on the student's dissertation committee
 - ◆ Work with UA faculty to help graduates obtain a faculty position

For More Information:

Contact Dr. C. June Maker at 520-621-7822 or at junemaker@hotmail.com