

Special Education - Tenure Track Faculty Position Available

Responsibilities: Teach undergraduate level courses and supervise public school practica in a Special Education undergraduate state, CEC, NCATE standards based program. Courses require integration of theory with practice and involve supervision of public school/agency practica. The most desirable applicant will have a strong background in early childhood special education, language and assessment of young learners across severity levels, experience with standards based personnel preparation, curriculum development and program evaluation.

Qualifications: Significant experience in a public school, agency, or hospital setting with young children with special needs required. Completion of doctorate in Special Education or a related field, or enrollment in a doctoral program with significant progress towards degree completion is required. Applicants with significant experiences with young children with disabilities across severity levels and their families, special education supervision experiences, and higher education special education teaching experiences will be given preference in hiring. Ability to coordinate coursework and practica experiences with teaching skills appropriate to preparing teachers to work with individuals with disabilities from birth-grade 3.

Starting Date: August 18, 2010

Closing Date: Review of applications to begin November 30, 2009 and continue until campus interviews are scheduled.

Applications: Send letter of application, vita, transcripts of course work, with an official transcript from the institution from which highest degree was earned, and two reference letters to Dr. Kathlene Shank, Chairperson, Department of Special Education, Eastern Illinois University, 600 Lincoln Avenue, Charleston, IL 61920-3099.

Web Site: <http://www.eiu.edu>

Eastern Illinois University is an equal opportunity, equal access, affirmative action employer committed to achieving a diverse community.

Counseling and Student Development | Early Childhood, Elementary, & Middle-Level Education
| Educational Administration | Health Studies | Physical Education | Recreation Administration |
Secondary Education & Foundations | Special Education | Student Teaching